"I started with goperformance upon moving to Peachtree City six years ago in 2016. I keep coming back to train at goperformance because of the environment and the coaches. The environment is client-centered, and the coaches are committed to seeing you grow and develop. They are there to support you and want the best for you. Many other places, the coaches and trainers are there to check a box or get a paycheck. That's not the case here. They are invested in me. That's why they are constantly correcting form, checking to see how I am doing personally and truly want me to get better. I know when I walk in the doors at goperformance I am working on becoming a better athlete. The community here makes it so unique. Everyone here is a big family. goperformance has taught me to put in 110% effort in each and every thing – whether that's training or my games. Pushing myself can be exhausting but it's rewarding. By coming to goperformance, I have adopted their community mentality – it's taught me to be encouraging and welcoming to others even if I haven't met them. goperformance is like a second family to me. Other gyms might claim to have community, but you truly feel it here."
